

The fact that part of our cable bills is to cover the fees charged by certain networks is galling. Some of those mentioned in a recent increase notice were ESPN, Turner, and Disney. Each of those networks also inflict 20 plus minutes of advertising per hour. Let me pick which ones I want and you will quickly see me avoid those who kill us with ads. Enough is enough.